Nevertheless, dairy industry is facing serious crisis at processing & production that influence milk yield, quality and value addition. There is a dire need to address these challenges, identifying root causes and working on sustainable solutions to boost this field.

CHEESE & EXOTIC FOOD FESTIVAL

In continuation to previously held Cheese Festival in February, 2011 as a collaborative initiative between NIFSAT-UAF and Embassy of France to Pakistan, Cheese & Exotic Food Festival is also planned on the sideline of the conference. In this context, the Ambassador of France to Pakistan is expected to inaugurate this festival on 26th November, 2015. Cheese is a group of fermented milk-based product, available in a wide range of flavors and forms throughout the world. It is rightly said that there is a cheese for every taste preference and a taste preference for every cheese. Cheese has traditionally been a part of Pakistani cuisine; in particular unprocessed cheese (paneer) is the main type of cheese being used by village population. Over the period, due to growing influence of western food habits, there is an increasing demand for several varieties of cheese, such as cheddar, mozzarella and processed cheese slices in Pakistan. Moreover, a variety of native and foreign exotic foods are also gaining immense popularity owing to their luxurious profile. Keeping in view, the growing importance of cheeses and exotic foods in the country, the present event is organized under the kind patronage of the Embassy of France along with French experts providing an opportunity to get awareness about various varieties of French cheese as well as exotic foods from the world. Furthermore, it will also encourage local processors and provide platform to exchange their personal experiences with International experts. The participants will also have the opportunity to taste a variety of French and local cheese as well as exotic foods.
